Constantino Says Henry Russell Owes Him This Amount.

Florencio Constantino, the Spanish tenor ho was arrested in Boston on Thursday on a judgment for $25,000 Oscar Hammersteln obtained against him in this city for breach of contract to sing at the Manhattan Opera House, filed a suit yesterday for $14,300 against Henry Russell, im presario of the Boston Opera Company.

Constantino says that he was engaged by Russell in 1906 and 1907 to sing wit the San Carlos Opera Company at 21,000 francs a month. Under this contract he claims $11,900. While a member of the company, in the season 1911-1912, the singer alleges, he sang at two extra performances at $1,200 a night, which has not been paid.
